REPORT

ON PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Presented to both Houses of Parliament by His Excellency's Command

Report on Parliamentary Elections 1956

THE HONOURABLE THE CHIEF SECRETARY.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report upon elections conducted during the period 1955-56.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Appendix A appended hereto shows enrolment figures for all Legislative Council Divisions as at the 31st December, 1956.

Enrolment for all Legislative Council Divisions as shown in my last report, giving the totals as at the 31st December, 1954, was 71,340, whilst the total enrolment on the 31st December, 1956, has now reached 97,697, showing an increased enrolment during this period of 26,357 electors, of whom 19,688 are enrolled as spouses. To obtain this increased enrolment 48,612 notations have been made on Legislative Council rolls.

During the half-year ending 31st December, 1956, 27,235 forms relating to the enrolment of electors and objections to the names of electors being retained on Legislative Council roll were posted from this Department at a cost of £358 9s. 6d. and the cost to the Department in accepting unstamped forms posted by electors to Electoral Registrars amounted to £27 2s. 1d.

Rolls for nine Divisions are now being prepared in this office and with the appointment of additional Electoral Registrars it will be possible to bring all rolls for the nineteen Legislative Council Divisions into one central department to be maintained by a fully-trained staff of public servants.

A habitation index is being prepared in central office which will contain particulars of the owner, occupier, spouse or other qualified elector resident in every property within the State. This when completed will greatly facilitate the enrolment of Legislative Council electors as following changes in ownership or occupancy of properties the Electoral Registrar will make the necessary alteration on the habitation cards, notify the new owner or occupier of his obligation to enrol as provided by the Electoral Act, and object to the name of the former owner being retained on the roll and requesting him or her to enrol in respect of any other qualifications for which they are liable for enrolment as Legislative Council electors.

Of the periodical elections held in 1956 only one was contested, this being for the Division of Buckingham. Elections for the Divisions of Macquarie and South Esk were not contested, the Honourable Members for these Divisions being returned unopposed. Particulars of these elections are shown marked Appendix B of this report.

For the periodical elections for the Legislative Council for the years 1955-56 an amount of £130 15s. was received as fines from those electors who failed to vote without a valid and sufficient reason for their failure.

It is hoped that uniformity in the hours of polling at all elections for both State and Commonwealth may be obtained as the closing of the poll at seven o'clock for State elections and eight o'clock for Commonwealth elections leads to confusion of electors and many electors submit as their reason for failure to vote the variation in the hour of the closing of the poll.

Court proceedings were taken against fifteen electors who failed to vote without a valid and sufficient reason and who failed to reply to a notice advising them of the imposition of a penalty imposed by the Chief Electoral Officer. It was necessary for these proceedings to be instituted in a Court of Summary Jurisdiction as is provided for in the regulations under the Electoral Act 1907. In nearly all cases the Police Magistrate imposed a fine of 5s., plus 10s. 6d. counsel's fee.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

The House of Assembly was dissolved by His Excellency the Governor on the 20th September, 1956, and the following dates were fixed for the purposes of the general election:—

| | | |
|--------------------|-------|----------------------|
| Issue of the Writ | | 21st September, 1956 |
| Nominations closed | | 27th September, 1956 |
| Poll | | 13th October, 1956 |

Writs certifying to the election of members for the respective Divisions were returned on the 22nd October, 1956, and were forwarded to the Clerk of the House, House of Assembly, on that date.

Nominations received were as follows—Bass 13, Braddon 16, Denison 19, Franklin 16, Wilmot 15; making a total of 79 candidates for the State. Reference to Table 2 shows the total number of candidates who nominated during the period 1941 to 1956.

At this election, 14 candidates were nominated by an additional group (Labour Anti-Communist) and of the candidates nominated eleven forfeited the deposit lodged with their nomination.

In the draw for position of party groups on the ballot paper the Liberal group in four Divisions drew group A, whilst in the fifth Division (Denison) the names of candidates in the Labour Party group were placed first on the ballot paper. Four candidates were not included in any group whilst two candidates nominated as Independent.

The election was conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Electoral Act 1907 and amendments thereto, and on this occasion the returning officers responsible for the conduct of the election in each Division was a permanent officer of the Commonwealth Electoral Department, whose services were made available by the Commonwealth Chief Electoral Officer. All polling officers carried out their duties in a most efficient manner and I desire to express my appreciation of the able and expeditious manner in which results were shown on polling night and the prompt manner in which the final scrutiny was completed.

There were 473 polling booths open throughout the State to enable electors to record their votes and 149,689 electors voted at these polling places as ordinary voters. Electors who were absent from their subdivisions and who voted as absent voters numbered 11,849, whilst the electors who voted under Section 116A numbered 687. These electors are those persons desirous of voting who claim their name was not on the roll owing to the error of an officer or a mistake of fact; only 168 electors were able to establish a claim and their votes were admitted to the scrutiny.

Electors who exercised their right to vote as postal voters numbered 5,187, and of these votes only 4,587 were returned in time to permit of being included in the count. Of the postal votes admitted to the preliminary scrutiny, 76 were informal resulting in 4,511 postal ballot papers being credited to the several candidates. Table 11 shows a summary of the voting under these headings.

Following the general election held on the 19th February, 1955, notices in the prescribed form were forwarded to those electors who appeared to have failed to vote without a valid and sufficient reason, and calling for a valid, truthful and sufficient reason why they had failed so to vote. It was necessary to impose a penalty of 5s. on 916 electors and an amount of £229 was collected in fines and paid to Consolidated Revenue.

The result of the election of members as determined after the completion of the scrutiny indicated that 15 members of the Australian Labour Party and 15 members of the Liberal Party of Australia were elected as members of the House of Assembly. It was necessary for the Electoral Commission provided under Section 183 of the Electoral Act 1907 to be summoned to furnish a certificate by notice in the Gazette.

Consequent upon the publication of this notice, His Excellency the Governor issued a proclamation in pursuance of Section 24A of the Constitution Act 1934, dated 23rd October, 1956, declaring that the provisions of that section shall apply to the House of Assembly chosen at the general election of members of that House held on the 13th October, 1956.

As only 23 days were available for the preparation of the election from the issue of the writ to polling day, it was necessary to request aid from the Police Department for officers to assist in country districts in the distribution of ballot papers and equipment for the taking of the poll.

I desire to express my appreciation of the assistance given by all Police officers in this connection and for the help given to officers on polling day at the various polling booths throughout the State.

Mr. George Howatt, a Fullbright Scholar from the University of Pennsylvania, was an observer at the election and expressed his thanks for the assistance afforded him in obtaining an insight into the method of conducting elections in Tasmania.

It is gratifying to record my appreciation of the service of officers of the State Electoral Department who, under rushed conditions, carried out their duties in an excellent manner. I also desire to thank Divisional returning officers and Legislative Council returning officers for their assistance in the conduct of elections during the period under review.

I would like to convey the thanks of the Department to Mr. J. C. Stephen, the Deputy Commonwealth Statistician, for his assistance in the compilation of the statistical tables appended hereto and to Professor T. Hytten, the Chancellor of the University of Tasmania, who was a member of the Electoral Commission.

C. A. BLAKNEY,
Chief Electoral Officer.

(a) Estimated at 30th June, 1956 (excluding migratory).

(b) Estimated mean 1954.

The census of 1954 showed the proportion of adults to be 600 per 1000 of the total population of Tasmania. The franchise was extended to certain classes of persons (minors) who had experienced war service, which was mainly responsible for the increase in the number of voters per 1000 of population to 626 in 1946 and 609 in 1948. By 1950, however, the effect of this concession was no longer apparent due to the effluxion of time and movement of population.

The proportion of informal votes (4.19 per cent) was higher than that of the 1955 election, but did not differ materially from earlier elections. The divisions showed percentages ranging from 3.41 per cent in Braddon to 4.65 per cent in Bass.

The number of candidates totalled 79, which was 16 greater than the number standing at the election of 1955 and seven below the record number in 1946.

The number of counts (430) was the lowest recorded for many years, while the greatest number of counts in a division (Denison) (157) was the highest recorded on this occasion but was considerably below the highest recorded at the 1948 elections.

The preceding table, giving the percentage of electors who exercised the franchise at all general elections, both State and Federal, since 1916, indicates roughly the rise and fall of political interest among the electors up to 1928. Both its rise and fall are much more pronounced in the case of women than of men. The proportions for the subsequent elections are dominated by compulsory voting, first in the Federal sphere and later in the State. The absence of many electors from the State on military service would largely account for the lower percentage of voters at the elections in 1940 and 1941.

REPRESENTATION OF PARTIES.

At the election of the 13th October, 1956, 79 candidates were nominated. Of these, 30 were endorsed nominees of the Labour Party, 29 were nominated by the Liberal Party, 14 were nominated by the Labour Anti-Communist Party and six nominated as Independents.

The result was the return of 15 Labour, 15 Liberal.

The No. 1 votes were cast directly for the three groups in each of the five electoral divisions of the State as follows:—

TABLE 5.—Party Strength as Indicated by No. 1 Preferences, 1956.

The method of election is briefly the "single transferable vote" system, and the law provides that a seat shall be allotted to each complete quota of votes in each division.

The quota in each division is ascertained by the following formula:—

$$\frac{\text{Number of valid ballot-papers}}{\text{Number to be elected}} + 1 = \text{Quota.}$$

Any remainder is ignored.

For the election of a "House" of 30 members, there will therefore be 35 theoretical quotas, which, however, because of "exhaust" votes, will not become complete.

The following table shows for each division, and for the State as a whole, the number of first preference votes, the number of quotas, and the seats won by each party:—

TABLE 6.—Party Strength in Divisions as Indicated by No. 1 Preferences, 1956.

The number of quotas allotted to each party and seats won was as follows:—

| Party. | Quotas Allotted | Seats Won. |
|-----------------------|-----------------|------------|
| Labour | 17.60 | 15 |
| Liberal | 15.27 | 15 |
| Independent | 2.13 | — |

From the above table it will be seen that there were 2.60 quotas of Labour votes made up of unrepresented fractions of 15 members elected, Liberal votes were under-represented by 0.27 quotas for 15 members elected, while other candidates polled 2.13 quotas of unrepresented votes.

The following Table 7 shows the party strength as indicated by the quotas of No. 1 preferences, and the seats actually won by Labour and non-Labour groups at each general election since 1946. Independent votes have been distributed as described elsewhere in the context, and the total for the State is the aggregate of the results for the five divisions.

The number of quotas shown in the immediately preceding tables for the State as a whole is the sum of the quotas for each division, which, of course, are not uniform. The following figures show the representation due to each party, based directly on the total number of first votes polled by each in the whole of the electorates or on the number of uniform quotas and the number of seats won.

The preferential system of voting therefore resulted in slight over-representation of Liberal at the expense of the Labour and Independent candidates.

A comparison between the number of seats due to parties, on the basis of No. 1 preferences and seats actually won, is given for all elections held since 1928 in the following table:—

A brief summary of the results of the 1956 election for each division is appended:—

BASS.

There were 14 candidates in this division, of whom six were Labour, five Liberal, and three Labour Anti-Communist. Valid votes numbered 32,149, of which 16,556 were recorded for Labour, 14,292 for Liberal, and 1,301 for the Labour-Anti-Communist candidates. Labour candidates secured 3.61 quotas and gained three seats, and Liberals gained three seats for 3.11 quotas. In all, 38 counts were necessary for the complete election. There was little cross-voting.

First preferences secured the election of one Labour candidate. On the 2nd and 38th count two Labour candidates were elected, and on the 18th, 27th and 31st counts three Liberal candidates secured election. Three candidates forfeited their deposit, one Labour, one Liberal and one Labour Anti-Communist.

BRADDON.

Sixteen candidates—six Labour, six Liberal, three Labour Anti-Communist and one Independent—nominated for Braddon. Labour polled 15,302 votes, 3.93 quotas for three seats; Liberals, 14,814 votes, 3.29 quotas for three seats, and Labour Anti-Communist, 1,310.

First preferences secured the election of one Liberal and one Labour candidate, the second Labour candidate was elected on the 48th count, whilst the third Labour candidate was elected on the 63rd count. On the 85th count two other Liberal candidates were elected. Six candidates forfeited their deposits.

DENISON.

The Denison division attracted nineteen candidates, of whom six were Liberal, six Labour, three Labour Anti-Communist and four Independent. Labour polled 16,837 votes for 3.41 quotas and three seats; Liberal 14,317 votes, 2.90 quotas for three seats; Labour Anti-Communist and Independents, 3,406 votes, 0.69 quotas for no seat. One Labour and one Liberal candidate were elected at the first count, but 81 counts were needed before the last candidate was elected.

Little cross-voting was evident in this division. Nine candidates—two Liberal, one Labour, three Labour Anti-Communist and three Independents—forfeited their deposits.

FRANKLIN.

Sixteen candidates contested the election for Franklin. Six were Liberal; six Labour; three Labour Anti-Communist, and one Independent. Labour candidates polled 14,566 votes, 3.43 quotas for three seats; Liberals 12,751 votes, 3.00 quotas for three seats; Labour Anti-Communist 815 and Independents 1,585 votes for no seat. Little cross-voting took place in this division. Two Liberal, two Labour and three Labour Anti-Communist candidates forfeited their deposits.

WILMOT.

For this division there were fifteen candidates—six Liberal, six Labour, and three Labour Anti-Communist candidates. Of the 31,334 valid votes, 16,835, 3.76 quotas went to Labour for three seats, and 18,303, 2.97 quotas, to Liberal for three seats. One candidate was elected on the first preferences and 72 counts were required to complete the election. Two Labour Anti-Communist candidates forfeited their deposits.

ABSENT VOTES, POSTAL VOTES, AND SECTION 116A.

Under the provisions of Section 116A, 687 persons whose names were not on the roll claimed the right to vote, and filled in ballot-papers. Of these 519 were rejected because their claim to be on the roll could not be sustained. The remaining 168 were admitted to the scrutiny and seven of them rejected for informalities, leaving 161 valid votes under Section 116A.

The number of absent votes was 13,271, but these included a number whose names were not, in fact, on the roll, and 1,422 were rejected on this account. A further 517 were rejected for informalities, leaving 11,849 valid absent votes.

Taking together the claims under Section 116A and attempts to vote under provisions for electors absent from their usual subdivisions, the number of votes disallowed were:—1956, 1,941; 1955, 1,703; 1950, 1,749; 1948, 1,650; 1946, 1,448; 1941, 2,283; 1937, 1,897; 1934, 1,687; 1931, 2,086. These disallowed votes are not counted either as votes recorded or as informal votes.

The figures in the above table represent the number of votes which were discarded during the actual count because there was no further choice marked on them which could be made effective. These votes do not, in all cases, indicate unrepresented electors, because many of them had contributed to the election of successful candidates before they became exhausted.

VOTING IN SUBDIVISIONS.

The following tables, 16 to 20, give for each division the number of first ordinary vote choices for each candidate in each subdivision, and in absent votes, votes under Section 116A, and postal votes. The number of electors on the roll, and electors who voted, by sexes, and the number of informal papers, are also given for the same subdivisions. The candidates are grouped in parties, and the total votes are given for the groups. Although the Independent candidates are grouped together, they need not necessarily be considered as a political party group.
